“Oh yeah, a lighting design show! Great! Where do Essential Home comes in?” Essential home was born from the minds of lighting designers and its essence can be traced back to DelightFULL collection “Essentials” which some of you may have already know under different names. The names changed, the inspiration changed and the collection evolved into a brand. However, our connection to lighting design is big and it’s still patent in the lighting pieces details of the collection such as Ivete palmtree, Donna Table Lamp and Miranda Pineapple.
