MID CENTURY FURNITURE

“A room should never allow the eye to settle in one place. It should smile at you and create fantasy”

Juan Montoya

Bring the Midcentury Modern touch to your home

Inspired in the midcentury modern style, Essential Home has accomplished its first year with the release of seven new products that will make your home travel in time with class and refinement.

To increase the upholstery collection there are two new products: Ellen armchair – a comfortable way to relax, Ellen’s sculptural back and elegant curves create a chic retro look in any interior project; and the Florence stool – the epitome of midcentury modern design. In trendy pastel colors always with a golden touch that will make you drop to your knees. With these two comfortable seats you will have problems to get your visits out of the room.

Casegoods collection also had an increase of products with three new sideboards: Anthony, Edith and Claire, and a bar table: Janis. A truly midcentury inspired piece is the Anthony sideboard, a mix of wood and brass with a marble top that gives it the final elegance touch. A piece that makes a statement in any room you place it. Edith sideboard will give to your room a female touch. A grey textured marble top stands out for its high-end look, while pink and gold contrast with each other, flowing through the structure of the sideboard.

Claire sideboard has a sober polished stainless steel casing and elegant bird's eye wood leafed drawers. The retro doorknobs are the perfect detail for this unique piece of furniture. A clean and light aesthetic like no other. Inspired in a stylish NYC lounge bar, Janis bar table is the perfect detail on a vintage cocktail party with a beautiful marble top and base, and a golden eye-catching support.

The final touch for any room will be given by the new Diamond mirror. This product comes in two different versions: big and small. Inspired by asymmetrical and dazzling shapes of a Diamond rock, this mirror is the ultimate combination of geometry and design. The use of gold enhances the luxurious element within this object resulting in a sophisticated yet, dynamic piece that stands out in any ambiance.
